

'Underground Railroad' Brings Freedom to Life

Family of Humanity Inc's annual benefit performance was a night filled with song, dancing, laughter and fun April 20 in Collins Elementary School auditorium where 25 youngsters of Family of Humanity Inc.'s HUG Program watched a spectacular musical program. STUDENTS ages 8-16 are currently enrolled in an innovative "Human Understanding and Growth" program that focuses on art enrichment activities encouraging teamwork and improving self-confidence.

Themed to "The H.U.G. Underground Railroad Movement," all performances centered on the emancipation of slavery and freedom, including songs like "Oh Freedom" and "Dance to Freedom," that moved the happy audience.

"We had an awesome time at the event, the children's performance was out of this world," said Hugo Plaisir, Vice President and Branch Manager of Bank United, the major sponsor for an event benefiting young people.

THE HUG Kids representing Hollywood Police Athletic League, Davie Police Athletic League and Collins Elementary School planned and practiced since January, their teacher educators and artists diligent in coaching as well as guiding children to make quilts for display and their costumes as well as routines for the 'big show.'

"Art is prevention and we are teaching our kids some very important skills through the arts that they will have for life to help them become more confident and empowered individuals," said Loretta Brunetti, CEO and co-founder of Family of Humanity.

Yohan McGlashan provided a musical interlude that drew audience raves.

THE MISSION of Family of Humanity is to give at risk children the opportunity to discover their capabilities, cultivate their own skills and talents, improve their social skills, and improve their reading comprehension skills through enrichment activities.

The non profit organization has taken a leadership position by designing after school programs to fill gaps in low income communities that other institutions are unable to provide.
